

A + BEE

Welcome to the 33rd issue of the A+ Bee! It's the last Bee of the year! The Christmas Bee! I hope you've all had a great couple of weeks and are ready for the year ahead. My new year's resolution is to make the Bee better and brighter and to include more community content - which means I need your help! Don't be afraid to send us things!

Tarot for the Fortnight

The Hermit
(from the LEYE WEYE Tarot)

It's party season and all you wanna do is head off by yourself. Guess what? That's totally okay! At least one day this week, practice saying no. You have some thinking to do and you won't achieve clarity with all that chaos around you. It's great to celebrate, it's so awesome to see your friends, but it's also important right now that you practice some self-care and take an evening to be alone with your feelings.

Meetup Recap

by Claire

The Cincy Straddlers held their annual Holigay Party for the second time, and it was a blast! Besides the breadsticks, cookies, and other treats, the party also sported a snazzy photobooth, lots of queered holiday decorations (our tree topper angel wears a snapback), a number of bow ties and lots of people enjoying themselves! We also had the thrill of listening to a poem being read, and each got a little affirmation on a piece of paper to take home and let stew for the new year. The best gift we all got this year was each other's company and community (plus Autostraddle, of course).
